10. What are your objectives in a mentoring relationship? Describe key learning objectives or competencies you want to develop. Your objectives should be specific, measurable, action-oriented, realistic and time-specific. For example, if you are a law student, you may want advice and know-how on effective strategies for finding a summer position at a large firm. You should indicate the time period and the methods or actions required to achieve that objective.

11. What are your expectations from a mentor? Consider the following:

- Describe what you expect and how the mentor can assist you in achieving your objectives.
- Do you want the mentor to be of the same sex (gender)?

Women in the law have vastly different experiences than men... consider whether this matters to you.

- Does race, religion, community matter to you?
- Do you prefer the mentor have a disability? Should it be a disability similar to your own?

- Do you want a mentor with a specific area of practice?
Government, Legal Aid, Public Interest, ACLU, Employment, Criminal, Civil, IT, Entertainment, Insurance Defense, Corporate, Tax, Bankruptcy, Medical Malpractice, Dram Shop, Trucking, etc.
- Do you want a mentor from a specific sized firm (solo, small, medium, large)?
Coming out as an LGBT person in a large firm with LGBT protections is extremely different than a small firm without them.
